

Privacy Policy

medicalbillpaid.com does not require or collect personal, financial or health information of any kind.

medicalbillpaid.com is a web portal with the sole function of identifying a healthcare provider that a consumer wishes to pay and connect them to the provider's payment gateway.

Once medicalbillpaid.com connects a consumer to their provider's payment gateway, it is at that point that personal and financial payment information will be exchanged. The provider's payment gateway is responsible for maintaining the proper e-commerce securities and licenses that apply to standard payment gateways. What does medicalbillpaid.com offer to promote a secure environment?

1). medicalbillpaid.com takes reasonable measures to contract only with payment gateways that meet the e-commerce security standards.

2). medicalbillpaid.com offers a consumer feedback link at info@medicalbillpaid.com where consumers can report suspicious payment gateway activity, identity theft or potential thereof, or simply make comments about their payment gateway experience. All feedback is reported to the payment gateway's securities division. Any proven gross negligence on the part of a payment gateway could result in the termination of future connections between medicalbillpaid.com and the payment gateway.

By using the medicalbillpaid.com site you are accepting the terms of use thereof.
